The Journal of yesterday contains a long | An Opinion of Judge Stites Reversing rticle on the Louisville police bill. In the its framers. Thus the editor says :

the Chancellor, or in his default by the Governor, are subject to no responsibility. They may violate every statute of the Commonwealth, and every ordinance of the city, and there is no tribuual named to which the people can appeal for redress.

To this we need only say that the Chancellor au, at his discretion, remove the Commissioners at any time. If they should violate or neglect their duty under the police law, the public city, they can be punished as every other citizen can, by the courts of justice. There is uothing in the police bill which exempts the commissioners from the penal laws of the Comnonwealth or the penal ordinances of the city.

Again the Journal says: Then, too, they are empowered to prescrib Then, too, they are empowered to prescribe when, and for what, salaries and pay may be forfeited, and have absolute control of suspension or removal from office; but there is no code to regulate the conduct of police officers, and the Commissioners can impose a penalty upon them for their political principles as readily as for any official malfeasance or nonfeasance, and indeed the change of political principles is the great and applied in the great and applied in the great and applied in the control of the change of political principles is the great and applied to the change of political principles is the great and applied to the change of political principles is the great and payments.

rescribe when and for what salaries and pay may be forfeited:" they have not "absolute there is a "code to regulate the conduct of colice officers;" the Commissioners cannot impose a penalty on them for their political principles as readily as for any official malfeasance or nonfeasance." The Commissioners cannot adopt any arbitrary rule for the conrol of the police or their expulsion from office The duties of the polico are fixed by law and by the ordinances of the city, and the Commisoners have no power over them except to try hem and removo or suspend them for a violaion or ueglect of duty. The Commissioners uuot remove a policeman on account of his olitical principles without a palpable violaion of their duty and their oath, nor without ntjecting themselves to the certainty of innediate removal by the Chancellor.

Again, we are informed that The Mayor holds the merest shadow of aunority, for his individual vote cau at all times, and under all circumstances, bo nullified by he action of his two associates.

The Mayor and the two appointees of the hancellor form the Board. Any two of the oard cau remove a policeman, but they cauot fill vacancies nor appoint supernumeraries. hese appointments can only be made by the Mayor with the consent of his associates-jus as the appointment of judges and other Federal officers can only be made by the President with the consent of the Senate. Does the Journal regard the President's appointing power as "the merest shadow of authority"

In fact, the Commissioners, appointed by the Governor, can set at defiance the will of the people, and as soon as the police officer are elected, there may be various harussing and emburrassing rules adopted, which will there them, from self respect, to resign, or else ender them amenable to a jurisdiction from which there is no appeal.

If it should be the will of the people that he police of this city shall neglect or violate their duly and still remain in office, the Comoners can set at defiance the will of the various harrassing and embarrassing rules" may be adopted by the Commissioners for the They cannot prescribe the duties of the police. cept to suspend or remove them for neglecting or violating the duties imposed by the laws of the State and the ordinances of the city.

The Journal, not content with misrepresent ing the provisions of the law in the most grow and glaring manner, assails the motives of the Legislature; speaks of the "malignant spirit n which this bill was begotten;" of the "infamy of this bill," and says "it originated in the canest spirit of party malevolence, and was carried, against every conviction of right and receive "no factious opposition" from him. In my judgment, this can only be done by nswer or counter-affidavit of the defendan lated by the provisious of the code in reference othe discharge of attachments. (Civil Code, Section 285 to 291 inclusive.) And, in my opinon, whenever the prima facie is regular, and conforms to the requisitions of the code, in all of the steps necessary to be taken before its issual, the only manner in which a defendant cau procure its discharge, because of the insuf-ncieucy of the grounds, or because of their fals-ity, is, by answer or affidavit, controverting hem directly, and thus forming an issue of act; without a denial thus made, the grounds must be taken as true. XXXVIth Congress-First Session. SENATE. - Mr. Seward presented the petition the cuizens of Brooklyn in favor of the Homestead bill. He also presented the petition of five hundred citizens of Berks and Bucks counties, l'ennsylvania, asking for protection on coal and iron. Mr. Sumner introduced a resolution in-ructing the Committee on Judiciary to in-tire into the expediency of appointing a ammission to revise and arrange in proper rm the statutes of the United States.

Mr. Brown's resolutions were taken up, and Mr. Brown's resolutions were laken up, and Mr. Wade spoke. He suid the resolutions cubodied the principal differences which now agitated the country. The londest complaints in regard to the Administration came from those who had been in power for many years, who had molded the principles of the Government, and had their own men in office, yet those who have been thus favored, threaten to bear down the structure of Government because of its mal-administration.

ocar down the structure of Government because of its mal-administration.

Mr. Fitch supposed that Mr. Wade spoke for the people of his own party in his own section. There were men at the North who preferred the defense of their honor to holding office.

Mr. Wade replied that he spoke what he believed to be the sentiment of the Northern people generally, but there might be greating. de generally, but there might be exceptions the Senator from Georgia had charged the forthern people with being destitute of cour ge, yet when did they disgrace themselves or quarter deck, or flinch in the perilous breach Mr. Toombs said he had not made such al regations against the Northern people, but ha aid that those who had proved faithless their honorable diligations and talked o harching their millious against the South, were of men who had the courage to carry ou Mr. Wade said he had put a broader con struction on the Senator's lauguage than he, Foombs, placed upon it, and was glad to hear its explanation. He believed, himself, that is man who would really commit perjury was itsely to be destitute of courage. He believed, with the people of his section, that ducling was unnecessary in civilized communities but was unnecessary in civilized communities but was unnecessary in a semi-barbarous region and among a semi-barbarous people.

Mr. Wade then proceeded to show that the fugitive slave law had been enacted without warrant in the constitution and that the personal liberty bill of this was not in violation of the constitution. To the observes that the sonal liberty bill of Ohio was not in violation of the constitution. To the charges that the Republicans desired to prohibit slavery in the Territories and to limit its extension, he pleaded guilty and defended that policy. If expressed his contempt for the Dred Scott decision, which was got up for political effect.

Mr. Toombs said the Senator from Dhio either could not comprehend his charges or was unable to reply to them, and went on to argue that the free States had violated the Constitution. The South felt no insecurity, except from invaiers. She had never senu up petitions here asking protection of her in up petitions here asking protection of her in dustry. She had never complained of the manner in which the government had been administered, but did complain of the action f State governments.

If you have a fine watch or clock out of order, take it to him for repairs. He has a great variety of watches, jewelry, clocks, silverware and fine spectacles, which he is selling very cheap.

a time when there is great fear that the stock of dry lumber, sash, doors, blinds, &c., will fall short, owing to the vast amount of improvements in Louisville, it will be interesting to the public to know that Alexander, Ellis & Co., have enlarged their factory and have now on hand several million of dry lumber. Call at their office on Main street, nearly epposite the Galt House, or at their factory on Fulton, above Preston street.

J. N. Collins sells the best of coal at his office, Third street, between Market and Jefferson. Give him your orders.

TRUKES .- Among the places worthy of the attention of the visitors to Louisville at the present time, is the great trunk manufactory and emporium of J. H. McCleary, on the 7. ortheast corner of Fourth and Main streets. Itis large manufactory enables him to supply trunks, valises, bonnet and hat boxes, carpet Lags, bureau trunks, etc., of the very best quality, at unprecedented low prices. All of themselves together for the turpour of do secured Hulkse-SHOELNG TURINGS, at 1 and 1 days on second street, between Main as 1 days. Mr. McCleary's work is beautiful as well as durable goods. Give him a call.

The people are aware that D. O'Hare, No. $27 Main street, is the oldest, largest and most experienced manufacturer of trunks and similar articles in the city. They should avail themselves of the rare opportunities afforded by Mr. O'Hare. To country and city merchants he offers peculiar advantages in his wholesale department, while in the retail line he cannot be equaled. Whoever wants to travel, whether with a small carpet-bag or a mammoth trunk, need go no further than to the Great Western Trunk Factory of Mr. O'Hare. His manufactory is a credit to Louisville, and should meet with extensive patronage. Hundreds of workmen are employed, and thousands of dollars weekly disbursed. As a matter of thome pride, and to subserve economy, pur-chasers will consult their best interests in pur-chasing of Mr. O'Hare.

ELEGANT STOCK OF MEN'S AND BOYS' CLOTH-184.-J. M. Armstrong, on Main, opposite the National Hotel, having returned from the East, is prepared to exhibit a most beautiful assortment of Men's and Boys' Clothing, made up in elegant style, fashionably cut, and of the ost substantial material. He would call spe cial attention to his stock of Youths' and Children's Clothing, all sizes, from two years up. His assertment of Cloths, Cassimeres and Vestings is also very full and desirable. All of his stock will bear the closest inspection, to which we ask the attention of the public.

Doors, Saue, Blinds, Boxes, Lumber and SHINGLES .- Messrs. Breeden & Bradley have on hand a large lot of doors, sash, blinds, boxes, &c., at their warerooms, on First street. between Main and the river, and they are prepared to execute all orders for woodwork necessary for the inside finish of frame or brick houses of every description, as heretofore.
